Our Why

We are deeply committed to protecting people in the places where they work, learn, and live. Our team, comprised of safety, security, and technology leaders, is dedicated to advancing the field of mass notification. We prioritize delivering customizable, scalable, and affordable solutions because we know even a few seconds of warning can be crucial in saving lives during an emergency.

Four Critical Alerting Layers

Alertus is the only mass notification system provider with solutions for all four layers to keep your people out of harm's way and your business running.
